

Come join your colleagues and friends for this special Luncheon at the Coast Coal Harbour, Vancouver

SPECIAL GUEST: GREG YEOMANS, Port Metro Vancouver, Manager of Planning

Greg joined Port Metro Vancouver in 2012 as Manager of Planning, where he was responsible for project permitting and leading the development of a new Land Use Plan for the Port. In 2015 Greg led the re-design of the Port's permitting process and took on the role of Director of Planning and Development, in which he oversees development reviews, strategic planning and transportation planning for the lands and waters managed by Port Metro Vancouver. Greg's past experience includes positions at the City of Vancouver, Metro Vancouver, The University Endowment Lands and TransLink.

Greg is a lifelong Vancouverite. A key theme in his work is finding the right balance between the benefits of growth while protecting livability and the environment for future generations.

Synopsis: Industrial Land Shortage (and other Port activities) in the Region

Industrial lands are essential to the future vitality of the local, regional, and national economy and increasing and developing an expanded land supply is essential to help satisfy demand and keep the many economic benefits of logistics from relocating outside the region. Reports indicate Metro Vancouver's supply of vacant industrial lands is moderate and declining rapidly and could have negative implications for the regional economy by 2020.
